

Moscato d'Asti DOCG

The “king of wines and wine of kings” Barolo, and his youngest relative, Barbaresco, should be mandatory tasting experiences within a wider culture of good drinking, not only for their stellar quality, but for their unique style. Unlike other Italian masterpieces that can be accompanied with more international grapes and flavors, these great classics are best expressed with their territorial typicality (100% Nebbiolo), following the rigorous Piemontese standards. Unlike many Barolo and Barbaresco on the market, which require considerable aging in order to express themselves in the best way and be more appreciated, the philosophy of Reversanti is to make each vintage directly accessible for release. The Reversanti line now also includes other Piemontese wines: a golden Piemontese, fresh and deliciously aromatic: sweet Moscato d’Asti and the inevitable Barbera d’Asti, once considered a “rustic” wine, due to its high acidity, today it has increased its fame, thanks to modern and appropriate winemaking processes. Reversanti could not miss a territorial digression with another great Italian classic: the aperitif for excellence, Prosecco, a sparkling wine with soft bubbles with intense hints of apples, almonds and wisteria flowers. Glera, the grape from which Prosecco is produced and the denomination are at home in the north-east of Italy: hence the digression in Veneto.

Most recent awards

Winemaking and Aging

Grape Varieties:	100% Moscato
Fermentation container:	Stainless steel
Closure:	Natural Cork

Vineyard

Soil composition:	Calcareous
Vine training:	Guyot
Yield:	90q/ha
Age of vines:	5-30 years old
Time of harvest:	Mid September

Tasting Notes and Food Pairing

Tasting notes:	Golden Yellow, fragrant and delicately sweet fruity with hints of citrus . Palate fat and fruity , with flavors of candied fruit , followed by sage , good freshness and drinkability
Serving temperature:	6-8 °C
Food pairings:	Dry pastries home made biscuits, Panettone and cakes.
Alcohol:	5,5%
